CHJA Member Benefits Clinic
September 13, and 14, 2010

Your application should consist of a completed application form and a letter to the selection committee introducing yourself. Though the committee would prefer typed letters, a neat hand written letter is acceptable. You may deliver your letter and application via email, but they are business letters, not personal notes or twitters. You should address your equestrian goals, and what you hope to the clinic will help you achieve. Trainer applicants should indicate what level of rider that they are most involved with. Three alternates will be selected for each clinic session. Incomplete applications will not be considered. No application or application materials received after August 30, 2010 will be considered. Application materials may be e-mailed to roland@ionsky.com.
